

Who's the expert?

Joy Markey BSc - Clinical Lead

Previously employed as National Decontamination Programme Lead for the Health Service Executive in Ireland, Joy Markey has expertise within decontamination standard development, operational management risk evaluation, and training of decontamination staff.

She enjoyed many years working at National Corporate level, developing National Standards and Policy for Decontamination of Reusable Invasive Medical Devices and flexible scopes.

Her role within Clinipak is to provide clinical and technical consultation on decontamination standard elements, and to advise and support distributors and customers in the appropriate use of the Clinipak portfolio, and development of operational policy for the introduction and use of Clinipak Products.

She is also responsible for developing training tools and providing bespoke onsite courses for Clinipak distributors, users, and customers.

For Joy's advice on your decontamination process, training opportunities, or product related queries, please contact us on:

T: + 44 (0) 1628 810626

E: asktheexpert@clinipak.co.uk

W: www.clinipak.co.uk/information-centre/ask-the-expert/

